PS3: Picked up the Slim model new (See a trend here?) Because it was a good price and was bundled with Uncharted 2. Turned out to be my favorite console of this generation and arguably my last console I really cared about. I have modded mine with a 256GB SSD and jailbroke so I can rip and play games I didn't get a chance to play years ago.

Nintendo Switch: The Switch Lite Model because I don't care about docking features and hate that the original model didn't have a proper dpad. I don't know if I would call this a home console since I treat it as a portable. I hope this console could get modded soon because I think hardware wise, there's a lot of potential.

- Animal Crossing New Horizons (The only reason I bought a Switch and now regret it. This game is dreadful)
- Luigi's Mansion 3 (Good looking switch game but absolutely too fucking easy)
- Star Ocean The Second Story R (Okay Remake. I don't like the 2D 3D graphics)
- Turok Trilogy Bundle (I Like Turok and this collection is dirt cheap)

I didn't buy Mario Kart 8 Deluxe or Super Smash Bros Ultimate because my cousin has these games and we play them at his house. The Legend of Zelda Games will never be discounted enough for me to warrant buying a copy. The used copies aren't cheap either. Super Mario Odyssey looks piss easy baby game and Wonder looks even worse. Unless I can get physical games on the penny, I'm not tempted to buy anymore games for the Switch when there are better ports on another platforms like PC.

3DS: My sixth and last portable console (Not including the Switch Lite). I don't know why this console is so expensive these days. The library is lacking compared to the Nintendo DS but I like mine. I have the old 3DS model. Had to return my first one because the camera didn't work out of the box so got a replacement a week later. A lot of cool homebrew stuff but in terms of my physical games...

- Pilotwings Resort (What a disappointment)
- Animal Crossing New Leaf
- The Legend of Zelda Ocarina of Time 3D
- The Sims 3
- Starfox 64 3D
- Mario & Luigi Dreamteam (Meh)
- Mario Kart 7

The most used software on my 3DS is Korg M01D which I use to compose shitty music. Ever since I've jailbroke it, I've been looking into other games I've missed out on. Same for my DSI. I suppose the 3DS is worth it just for that alone.

PC: I have memories gaming on my dad's DOS computer at work but my family didn't get a home desktop until 1999. I believe it was running Windows 98 and was capable of reading/burning CDs and had a floppy drive (I don't have my floppy disk games anymore other than some blanks unfortunately).
